MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

FROM: [REDACTED]
Deputy Chief, IMS/Career Counseling and Training Staff

SUBJECT: ADP Briefing [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

1. On May 7, 1981, the undersigned with the assistance of [REDACTED] briefed Mr. [REDACTED] representing [REDACTED] on the DO Records System with particular emphasis on the ADP aspects of information processing and retrieval. A demonstration of the STAR (Special Trace and Retrieval) System was also included in the briefing. [REDACTED]

2. Since [REDACTED] is on the threshold of a major ADP buildup, the focus of their interest is on how the CIA transmits, processes, maintains, and retrieves its data. While areas of interest ranged from the recruitment, qualifications, and training of records analysts through whether the STAR Name Group and searching software would be available to [REDACTED] the bulk of their questions sought to assess CIA opinion of various DBMS packages and their applicability to such intelligence problems as movement analysis and full text document searching.
